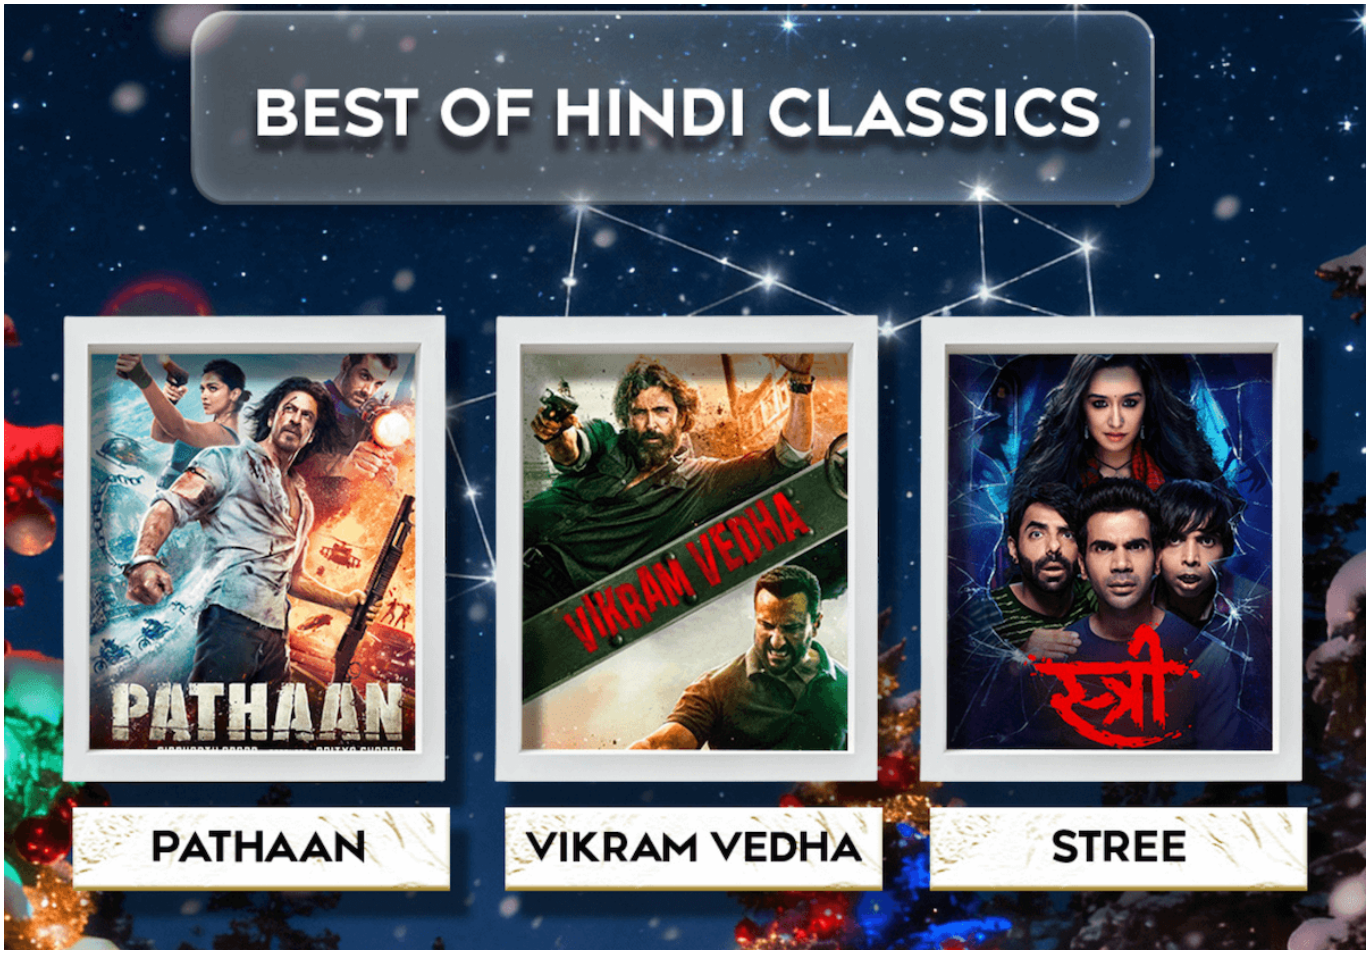
Shemaroo Entertainment secures trusted partner network certification



The company has earned the global benchmark for secure and compliant premium content handling

Shemaroo Entertainment has announced today that it has received the TPN Certification, the global benchmark for secure, compliant handling of premium content from global studios, not limited to editing and encoding as well as working with IFE systems companies for content integration.

“This reinforces our commitment to India Integrated—delivering safe, high-quality, multilingual inflight entertainment worldwide and setting new standards for a seamless IFE experience,” reads the December 18 Shemaroo press release.

It continues, “This festive season, fly to your loved ones and love your inflight entertainment. Wishing you joyful journeys and skies filled with festive magic.”
