Qatar Airways taps Inflight VR for IFE

By Sabrina Pirillo on March, 2 2020 | Inflight Entertainment

Qatar Airways is bringing virtual reality into the cabin with a new entertainment system from Germany-based Inflight VR. As part of its ongoing agenda to push the boundaries of inflight entertainment, the new IFE content is exclusively available to Qsuite and Business Class passenger onboard flights from Doha to Singapore and London, since mid-February.

According to today's press release from Inflight VR, "the venture ushers in a new era of entertainment where travelers can engage in content, unrestricted and uninstructed, as virtual reality continues to grow in traction."

"We are excited to have the opportunity of working with Qatar Airways. They have continued to put the customer first and remain a game changer in the aviation industry, proving time and again why they are masters of their craft," said Moritz Engler, Chief Executive Officer of Inflight VR.
