Kimberly Neu, RMT's new Account Executive in Sales for North and South America

RMT Global Partners has appointed Kimberly Neu as its newest Account Executive in Sales for North and South America including the Caribbean and Latin America.

Neu most recently owned a residential construction design company in Dallas, Texas, for 20 years. Over the course of her career she has held various positions, from National Sales and Marketing Vice President to company owner, with a strong background in sales and design work. Already known in the industry for her personalized customer service skills and “can-do” attitude, RMT Global Partners hired Neu as it continues to grow to meet the industry's rising demands, doubling the size of its team in one year’s time. The company is known in the industry for its high level of customer service as well as its innovative onboard equipment including blankets, pillows, service ware, and specialized onboard service amenities.
