

Lewis Capaldi treats British Airways passengers with live inflight performance

Lewis Capaldi served drinks before singing to a surprised group of British Airways passengers en route to Los Angeles

Ahead of the release of his latest album, "Broken By Desire To Be Heavenly Sent" on May 14, Scottish musician Lewis Capaldi surprised British Airways passengers with an exclusive, live performance of his forthcoming single, 'Wish You the Best' on board a flight from London Heathrow to Los Angeles

Lewis Capaldi sang live at 35,000ft on a British Airways 777-300 aircraft flying over the Atlantic Ocean en route to the City of Angels

The March 28 flight saw Capaldi make his way through the aircraft with a drinks trolley to surprise customers on board, including four unsuspecting superfans who had been specially invited onto the flight, before serenading passengers a cappella with a chorus and verse of the unreleased track.
