

Media Carrier Solutions introduces eJournals IFE on Lufthansa

Passengers can access the eJournals from their PEDs

Media Carrier Solutions has introduced an eJournals inflight entertainment (IFE) feature for passengers flying on Lufthansa.

The mobile reading option allows passengers to select from a range of magazines and newspapers, reading preferred articles on their PEDs.

The number of free titles passengers have access to inflight depends on their booking class. Economy Class passengers can access one free title, Premium Economy Class passengers can access two free titles, Business Class passengers can access three free titles and First Class passengers can read 20 free titles.

Passengers must have a booking for a flight operated by Lufthansa in order to access their digital allocation.

Media Carrier Solutions said it is “Proud to provide Lufthansa passengers with [its] paperless library,” in a LinkedIn post this week.
