

Skeye to bring "Splitsville" to the skies this December

Splitsville movie poster

Skeye Inflight Entertainment is highlighting Splitsville at APEX Global EXPO in Long Beach, California, this week.

A film by Michael Angelo Covino (The Climb), Splitsville is a bold, boundary-pushing comedy-drama. After premiering at Cannes on May 19 and releasing theatrically on August 22, it lands exclusively in inflight entertainment in December — available worldwide.

Starring Dakota Johnson, Adria Arjona, Kyle Marvin, and Michael Angelo Covino, Splitsville follows two couples whose friendship spirals into chaos when Carey (Marvin) learns that Julie (Johnson) and Paul (Covino) are in an open marriage. Sparks fly, lines blur and relationships buckle under the pressure. Also featuring Nicholas Braun, David Castañeda, O-T Fagbenle, Charlie Gillespie and Simon Webster, this ensemble delivers sharp timing, raw emotion and unexpected mayhem.

With Covino's signature wit and physical-stunt bravado, Splitsville fuses humor and heart.

Splitsville takes to the "Skeye" starting in December.