

Linstol unveils Air Astana Meridian Business Class headset

Linstol's Meridian Business Class headset for Air Astana

Linstol has unveiled the Air Astana Meridian Business Class headset, a celebration of Kazakh craftsmanship and modern design, captured through light, texture and sound.

The Air Astana Meridian Business Class headset, crafted in partnership with Linstol, draws inspiration from the artistry of Kazakhstan. Its design reflects the nation's deep cultural heritage — a landscape where tradition and innovation coexist in perfect balance.

Every detail of the headset tells a story, from the metallic finish to the subtle Kazakh motifs etched into the earcups. The soft-touch materials and ergonomic design ensure lasting comfort throughout long-haul journeys, while the advanced acoustic engineering delivers a soundscape as expansive as the Kazakh steppe itself, the November 11 press release said.

Engineered for clarity and calm, the headset features noise cancellation, allowing travelers to disconnect from the world and immerse themselves in pure, uninterrupted sound. Lightweight yet durable, it reflects Linstol's commitment to precision craftsmanship and Air Astana's dedication to elevating every aspect of the passenger experience.

The Meridian headset is designed exclusively for Air Astana as a symbol of modern Kazakhstan: bold, elegant and forward-looking.