

Rosen Aviation provides product preview for AIX 2024

Rosen PO·RT·AL

Rosen Aviation has announced it will showcase its Rosen PO·RT·AL at the Aircraft Interiors Expo \(AIX\) 2024 along with its ultra-lightweight carbon fibre seat-back OLED displays powered by the latest Qualcomm mobile processor. The company will also display an array of supporting technologies like Li-Fi connectivity, UV disinfection and personalized audio.

Rosen Aviation will be showcasing its complete lineup of in-production 4K OLED displays, ranging in size from 22 inches to 97 inches.

“Our bespoke solutions are custom, not tailored, to exactly meet increasing customer demand and create a truly evolutionary passenger experience in a complex, integrated environment,” the company said.

Attendees can see Rosen Aviation’s latest innovations on display at booth 4E11 from May 28 to 30 at the Hamburg Messe.
