Expliseat marked its first commercial flight milestone with Jazeera Airways this month.

The supplier called it a key milestone in its partnership with Jazeera Airways as the first A320neo commercial flight equipped with Expliseat TiSeat 2X seats officially entered service, operating from Kuwait City to Doha.

This inaugural flight is the first Expliseat seat in commercial service on an A320neo aircraft, and a concrete illustration of how next-generation seating directly supports airline growth strategies.

With TiSeat 2X, Jazeera benefits from:

- Up to 1.2 metric tons of weight reduction per aircraft
- Lower fuel burn and reduced CO₂ emissions
- Cabin flexibility with Lite and Prime configurations
- Passenger comfort designed without compromise, even at ultra-lightweight standards

"At Expliseat, we are proud to support Jazeera Airways as it scales its network and fleet, combining operational efficiency, sustainability, and performance, starting from the very first flight," the supplier said via LinkedIn.

More routes from and to Kuwait City are coming soon, with additional aircraft currently being prepared for entry into service
