

RECARO Aircraft Seating recognizes supplier excellence with Americas event

RECARO's 15th Global Supplier Day in Fort Worth, Texas

RECARO Aircraft Seating hosted its 15th Global Supplier Day at its Americas site in Fort Worth, Texas. The event brought together members of the global supplier network. It focused on collaboration, knowledge exchange and recognizing outstanding supplier performance.

Held under the motto “Partners in Performance,” the event emphasized the importance of a resilient and high-performing supply chain.

The conference provided suppliers and RECARO representatives with the opportunity to exchange insights and discuss topics including supply chain resilience, efficiency improvements, and collaboration across the global supplier network. The event reinforced the shared commitment to operational excellence, innovation, and long-term partnership development throughout the aerospace industry.

The event concluded with an award ceremony recognizing outstanding supplier performance and long-term partnership contributions across four categories. SII Deutschland GmbH received the Non-Production Material Award in recognition of more than 30 years of partnership as a trusted engineering supplier. The Newcomer Award was presented to Caisting \(Shanghai\) Technology Co., LTD for its rapid development in sheet metal production, investments in manufacturing capabilities, and contribution to supply chain resilience. Artex Latvia, SIA received the Customer Service Award for excellence in dress cover manufacturing as well as strong performance in quality, delivery, communication and flexibility in meeting demand. The Production Material Award was presented to Berrang SE in recognition of the successful transformation of the hardware program and strong operational execution. Mack Alu-Systems GmbH and Sabeti Wain Aerospace were also acknowledged for their contribution to RECARO supply chain performance.

“Our suppliers play a key role in enabling RECARO to consistently deliver high-quality and reliable seating solutions,” said Mark Hiller, CEO, RECARO Aircraft Seating and RECARO Holding. “We sincerely thank our partners for their commitment, expertise, and dedication towards performance, which allow us to exceed customer expectations and strengthen our leading position in the global aviation market.”

“We are pleased to host this year’s Global Supplier Day and welcome our partners to our site in Fort Worth/USA. Bringing together our global supplier network in one place creates a valuable platform for open exchange, deeper collaboration, and the alignment of our shared goals. It is through these interactions that we continue to strengthen relationships and drive forward our joint development in an increasingly dynamic and international environment,” said Sunitha Vegerla, General Manager, RECARO Aircraft Seating Americas.