

Unum expands AIX presence for 2024

Unum Aircraft Seating's floor space at AIX

Unum Aircraft Seating has announced it will more than double its footprint at the Aircraft Interiors Expo (AIX) in Hamburg this May, following the success of its appearance at the show last June.

“We welcomed a constant stream of airline and lease company visitors – we have decided to move halls and take a much larger stand at this year’s event,” the company said.

AIX attendees can find Unum Aircraft Seating’s booth in Hall B6 with a stand that is more than twice the size of last year’s, showcasing the company’s range of business class seats, with the option to try out the Unum One and Unum Two. With the additional space, the company will also demonstrate its patented Scimitar seat mechanism.

This year, AIX Hamburg takes place from May 28 to 30 at Hamburg Messe and is co-located with the World Travel Catering and Onboard Services Expo (WTCE).
