
Aeroflot flies new Business Class kits from AK-Service

By PAX International on April, 11 2019 | Amenities & Comfort

The kits pay homage to the airline's hard-working cabin crew

New Business Class amenity kits designed by AK-Service have been launched on Aeroflot's short-haul flights. The kits, according to a press release from the amenity kit designer, were made to maintain the highest level of passenger comfort on board.

The kits include the necessities for getting a good sleep in flight, including an eye mask and cozy slippers, as well as L'Occitane cosmetics.

"AK-Service group of companies is proud of its partnership with Aeroflot and also [aims] to improve comfort and convenience for Aeroflot Business Class passengers," said a statement from the company.