

Air France boards new amenity kits for winter

The new Premium Economy kits on Air France

This winter, Air France is offering its long-haul Business Class passengers a new comfort kit. The new designs are made up of 93 percent recycled material and decorated with airline's historic winged seahorse emblem in navy blue or grey.

The Business Class kit has a toothbrush and pen made of cornstarch, and ear plugs packaged in kraft paper. There is also a large, soft sleep mask, socks, toothpaste and Clarins cosmetics. Passengers traveling in the long-haul Premium Economy cabin receive a dark blue kit with a sporty look. The kit features the accent symbol of the Air France brand, in a red or blue version. The kit has a toothbrush made of cornstarch and ear plugs packaged in kraft paper. There is also a sleep mask and a pair of socks.

In all cabins, the plastic packaging of each kit is now replaced by a tamper-evident seal. In addition, headsets are regularly cleaned and disinfected, allowing Air France to eliminate single-use headphone protectors and their packaging offered previously.
