

Air France unveils latest comfort kit collection

Air France's haute couture gift boxes in La Première

This summer, on its long-haul flights in the La Première, Business and Premium cabins, Air France is introducing a range of comfort kits, carefully designed to meet the needs of every passenger. Refined, elegant and practical, they contain a selection of items designed to help passengers relax and enjoy their flight.

Haute couture gift boxes in La Première

In the La Première suites, Air France will offer passengers an elegant gift box, designed as a genuine leather accessory. With its unique swivel design, it comes in the two signature colors of this cabin, Air France red and pearl grey, and features an embossed winged seahorse, the airline's historic symbol in its latest stylized version, a hallmark of the La Première travel experience.

To create this gift box, Air France is continuing its partnership with French cosmetics brand Sisley, which has also set up a treatment area in the La Première lounge at Paris-Charles de Gaulle. The box contains a range of four products, carefully chosen to offer a genuine moment of well-being during the flight:

- A restorative hand cream for hydrating skin and nails,
- An eye contour balm
- An intense Hydra-Global hydration booster moisturizing serum,
- An All Day, All Year anti-age day cream.

The case also contains an elegant Air France La Première pen, a wooden comb, earplugs and a night mask.

Modern kits in Business Class

From August, an updated comfort kit will be available in Business Class, with two models which are replaced every six months. Two versions have been designed: a light grey version for this summer and a navy blue version for the winter season, into 2027. Its elegant design showcases a contemporary pattern made from more than 90 percent recycled material. The kit is also adorned with the winged seahorse, the airline's emblem.

To complement this kit, Air France's longstanding partner Clarins has selected two miniature skincare products containing 96 percent naturally derived ingredients. Designed to provide comfort and well-being during the flight, they complement the Clarins treatment areas in a selection of the airline's lounges:

- A Beauty Flash Balm
- A Moisturizing and Quenching Matte Gel

The kit also includes earplugs, a night mask made from recycled materials, a bamboo toothbrush, a tube of organic toothpaste made in France and a pair of socks made from recycled materials.

All the essentials in Premium

From this month, Air France will also be updating the comfort kit in the Premium cabin. Available in two versions, replaced every six months, this elegant pouch features felt detailing and is made from fully recycled materials. It comes in two color combinations: a navy blue version with a horizon blue flap, and a horizon blue version with a navy blue flap. Each model features the Air France emblem on its flap.
