Icelandair has debuted the latest duvet for its private jet program in February, designed by Kaelis. Operated for Loftleidir, the "Stone" microfiber duvet has a combination of shell and fillings to make it cozy and warm for a better onboard passenger experience, and it is large enough to be comfortable. The duvet is durable, quick-drying and wrinkle-resistant.

Kaelis also recently revealed a duvet for Uzbekistan Airways for its Business Class cabin. The purple, quilted duvet provides warmth onboard and the size is ideal for a comfortable journey.
