The bespoke onboard collection for Riyadh Air developed in collaboration with John Horsfall

As its commercial launch approaches, Riyadh Air is setting a benchmark in passenger comfort with a bespoke onboard bedding collection developed in collaboration with John Horsfall. The range reflects the airline's commitment to premium experience, innovation and passenger wellbeing, while incorporating subtle sustainability features.

For Business Elite passengers, standout pieces include a bolster cushion and wool-blend fine throw, designed to provide optimal support and comfort throughout the journey. These hero items demonstrate how premium materials and ergonomic design can enhance rest and elevate the onboard experience.

The collaboration began early in the cabin design process, ensuring the bedding integrates seamlessly with interiors and operational requirements. The collection also features dual-sided pillows with cooling and warming options, along with plush duvets tailored for long-haul comfort.

Pillows and duvets feature John Horsfall's Re-Thread® recycled fillings, embedding sustainability without compromising luxury or quality. The collection adapts across cabins, with premium spaces receiving additional finishes that complement the interior and reinforce Riyadh Air's warmth and hospitality.

Engineered for efficient service and storage, the bedding balances operational practicality with elevated comfort. From presentation to functionality, each element contributes to a cohesive, passenger-focused experience—positioning the bedding as a defining feature of Riyadh Air’s modern premium identity.
