

Kaelis and EVA Air launch exclusive kids kit with airline mascot

The kit included a backpack, an activity book, coloring pencils and a card matching memory game to keep young travelers entertained throughout the flight

Kaelis has announced a partnership with EVA Air, unveiling a kids kit specially designed to elevate the inflight experience for travelers less than 12 years old. At the heart of this exclusive collection is EVA Air's lovable mascot Berry the Bear.

Thoughtfully curated with both fun and educational value in mind, the EVA Air kids kit includes:

- Vibrant EVA Air backpack: A cheerful and durable bright green mini backpack with adjustable straps in orange hues, decorated with playful travel-themed doodles. Sized for little ones, it offers a stylish and functional way to carry inflight goodies.
- "Meet Berry" activity book: A colorful, engaging booklet filled with age-appropriate puzzles, colouring pages, and fun facts—all centred around Berry the Bear. It is crafted to encourage creativity, cognitive engagement and screen-free entertainment throughout the flight.
- Coloring pencil set: Packaged in a compact, eco-friendly tube featuring Berry's artwork, the set includes natural wood colouring pencils in bright primary shades, for bringing the activity book to life.

- Berry memory card game: A classic matching game featuring illustrations of Berry the Bear in various outfits and expressions. This set is designed to sharpen young minds, improve memory and keep kids engaged.

Launched for the summer vacation, this delightful kit will be available for young passengers on EVA Air flights (available in limited quantities while supplies last).

“More than just entertainment, this kids kit reflects a shared commitment by Kaelis and EVA Air to create memorable, family-friendly travel experiences that blend joy, comfort and imagination,” reads the Kaelis press release.
