

Singapore Airlines introduces Toy Story-themed amenities for young travelers

Singapore Airlines' Toy Story-themed children's amenities feature an activity notepad inspired by Disney and Pixar's beloved characters, designed to keep young travelers entertained inflight. Buzz Lightyear and Woody toys are for illustrative purposes and not included in the amenity offering*

Singapore Airlines (SIA) has introduced a new collection of children's amenities from Buzz featuring characters from Disney and Pixar's Toy Story, offering young passengers a range of themed collectibles designed to enhance the inflight experience.

The latest collection features fan-favorite characters including Woody, Buzz Lightyear and Jessie, with amenities tailored to different age groups for children aged 12 and under.

Infants will receive a Toy Story-themed bib inspired by Woody's iconic red handkerchief, bringing a recognizable element of the animated franchise to the airline's youngest passengers.

For children aged three to six, SIA is offering a reusable drawstring bag featuring Toy Story's Little Green Aliens. The bag provides a practical keepsake for carrying personal belongings and souvenirs collected throughout the journey.

Older children aged seven to 12 will receive an activity notepad inspired by the imagination, creativity and adventure associated with the Toy Story franchise, providing an opportunity for creative engagement during the flight.

The collection forms part of Singapore Airlines' ongoing efforts to enhance the travel experience for families through amenities designed specifically for younger passengers.

SIA regularly refreshes its children's offerings to maintain engagement and ensure its products remain relevant to families traveling with children.

By incorporating recognizable characters and age-appropriate activities, the airline aims to create a more enjoyable journey for young travelers while providing families with practical amenities and memorable keepsakes.