

Flying Food Group launches service on LOT Polish Airlines SFO route

Flying Food Group launches catering services for LOT Polish Airlines's new nonstop route between San Francisco and Warsaw

Flying Food Group has launched catering services for LOT Polish Airlines's nonstop route connecting San Francisco (SFO) and Warsaw (WAW), further expanding its longstanding partnership with the carrier.

The four-times-weekly service officially launched on May 6, marking LOT's first-ever nonstop route between SFO and WAW. With the addition of this route, Flying Food Group now serves LOT at six locations across its network.

"Flying Food Group is delighted to continue expanding our partnership with LOT Polish Airlines, a valued longtime customer and partner," said Nicolas Rondeau, Executive Vice President, Sales & Marketing at Flying Food Group, in a statement released May 8. "We sincerely appreciate LOT's renewed trust and confidence in Flying Food Group for the launch of this important new international route."

Rondeau said the company remains committed to delivering high culinary standards and operational excellence in support of the service.