Japan Airlines this month began serving the Vegetable Air Mos Burger from Mos Food Services, Inc. on select flights to North America and Europe.

The Mos Vegetable burger will be served in Premium Economy/Economy Class, as a second meal service.

The Vegetable Air Mos Burger is the fourth collaboration. It joins the Teriyaki Burger, Rice Burger and Teriyaki Egg Burger, which have been served in the past.

Passengers will be served warm buns and a hamburger patty wrapped in a special burger wrap. It is served the lettuce, tomato and sliced onion with an original carrot sauce. Mos Burger's contracted farmers in Japan produce the vegetables

Mos Vegetable Burgers will be served from Tokyo's Narita Airport to Los Angeles, San Diego, Chicago, Boston, New York, London, Frankfurt, Paris and Helsinki until May 31. The service will start March 30 From Tokyo (Haneda) to London and Paris.
