

John Horsfall acquires Orvec

John Horsfall has announced the purchase of Orvec, welcoming the passenger comfort product supplier into the Group.

Orvec is especially known for its in-cabin textile products, with particular focus on non-woven items. The acquisition allows John Horsfall to diversify its product range.

"This is a fantastically positive acquisition for our business, with many synergies in terms of product area and customer base," said Peter Horsfall Benson, Managing Director at John Horsfall.

Through the acquisition, John Horsfall will retain Orvec's UK and China production facilities, with all sales enquiries, order processing and account managing happening in-house at John Horsfall's Huddersfield-based headquarters in West Yorkshire. The main point of contact for Orvec's USA customers remains Erick Ray, while all other sales and customer services-related enquiries regarding airlines and train products will be handled by Ellie Parkes of John Horsfall.
