

dnata appoints Lynn McClelland as Chief Executive Officer, Catering and Retail UK

Lynn McClelland, Chief Executive Officer of the dnata's Catering and Retail division in the United Kingdom

dnata announced today the appointment of Lynn McClelland as Chief Executive Officer of the company's Catering and Retail division in the United Kingdom, effective immediately. In the role, McClelland will head dnata's catering and retail operations at 18 airports across the UK.

"Lynn brings a wealth of international experience and has a demonstrable track record in building high-performing businesses and teams, driving operational excellence, understanding our customer's needs, as well as financial and change management," Robin Padgett, Chief Executive Officer of dnata Catering and Retail, said in the release.

"With her broad expertise and passion for culinary excellence, Lynn is well-positioned to lead our dedicated team and help dnata's customers deliver on changing traveller expectations and needs."

McClelland's previous executive roles include Head of British Airways Global Catering and Director of Worldwide Operations for IAG Cargo. "Lynn has delivered large-scale change in a wide range of positions within both the transport and food industries," the release said.