

Foodcase International welcomes Marc Warde as Global Special Meals Program Director

Marc Warde, Global Special Meals Program Director, Foodcase International. Photo credit: APEX

Foodcase International has announced the appointment of Marc Warde as the Global Special Meals Program Director. With a wealth of experience and a passion for culinary innovation, Marc will lead the charge in bringing Foodcase International's and his award-winning brands, Libero Special Meals, Bare Food and Cub Food Free-From Food for Kids, to a global audience within the travel sector, the press release said.

In this role, Marc will lead the expansion of Foodcase International's Special Meals Programs across international markets. The initiative will focus on delivering dining experiences to passengers that are tailored to special dietary restrictions, including food allergies and intolerances.

"We are thrilled to welcome Marc to the Foodcase International family as our new Global Special Meals Program Director," said Wilbert de Louw, CEO of Foodcase International. "With Marc's expertise and leadership, we are confident in our ability to further elevate our special meals programs and bring his and our renowned brands to new heights on the global stage."

Marc brings a record of success in hospitality and culinary directorship, NPD and brand development to the position with Foodcase International. Previously, Marc held key positions in leading hospitality and food service organizations, demonstrating a commitment to customer satisfaction.

"I am delighted to join Foodcase International and lead the charge in expanding our special meals programs even further on a worldwide platform, it really is very exciting having the capability to offer airlines a truly global food allergy safe full range special meals solutions," said Marc Warde "Having 1 worked with Wilbert for several years, I am excited to work alongside the talented team at Foodcase International to introduce Foodcase's amazing range in addition to Libero Special Meals, Bare Food and Cub Food Free-From Food for Kids to travellers all over the world through their global network."