

Linstol names Tim Abbott as Chief Financial Officer to drive global growth and innovation

Tim Abbott, Chief Financial Officer, Linstol

Linstol has announced the appointment of Tim Abbott as Chief Financial Officer.

With an impressive track record in global finance and strategic growth, Abbott brings a refined perspective and depth of expertise to Linstol's executive leadership team. In this pivotal role, he will guide the company's financial strategy and operations, supporting Linstol's continued evolution as the trusted partner to the world's leading airlines.

"Linstol is at an exciting moment of expansion and innovation, and we are thrilled to welcome Tim to our leadership team," said Mark Russell, Chief Executive Officer of Linstol. "Tim's expertise and vision align perfectly with our commitment to excellence, craftsmanship and delivering elevated experiences at 35,000 feet."

Known for curating bespoke products that blend functionality with understated luxury, Linstol continues to set the standard for inflight enhancements. The appointment of Abbott underscores the company's dedication to innovation, sustainability and growth across its global network.

"I am honored to join Linstol at such a dynamic stage in its journey," said Abbott. "The brand's legacy of quality and partnership within the airline industry is unparalleled and I look forward to contributing to its continued success."