

Emirates announces travel campaign

Using the code MFUTURE travelers can take advantage of the offer from today until the end of the campaign

Emirates announced a new travel campaign today that awards travelers with a complimentary ticket to The Museum of the Future for each booking made until October 22.

One of Dubai's newest attractions, The Museum of the Future is housed in an aesthetically and architecturally interesting building. Visitors are invited to explore exhibits and installations that explore what the world's future might hold through immersive, sensory experiences.

Using the code MFUTURE travelers can take advantage of the offer from today until the end of the campaign. Travelers can book any cabin class and travel between now and December 8 of this year. As per today's press release, the complimentary ticket to The Museum of the Future must be booked on museumofthefuture.ae against a redemption code sent by Emirates prior to the planned visit and used by December 15, 2022.
