

Emirates marks one year of Premium Economy in Singapore

Emirates' Premium Economy has become a popular upgrade option for passengers since its introduction

Emirates has marked one year since the debut of its Premium Economy product in Singapore, carrying 26,000 passengers on nearly 730 four-class A380 flights between Singapore and Dubai from June 2023 to May 2024.

Emirates' Premium Economy Class is available to passengers travelling on flights EK 354 and EK 355 between Singapore and Dubai.

The Premium Economy cabin is located at the front of the main deck with 56 seats laid out in a 2-4-2 configuration. In the cabin, passengers can enjoy features like in-seat charging ports and a side cocktail table. They also receive inflight amenities and additional beverage options, including the Chandon Vintage Brut 2016, a global exclusive to Emirates Premium Economy passengers.

"We are delighted to commemorate the first anniversary of the launch of Emirates' Premium Economy in Singapore which serves as the ideal middle ground between Economy Class and Business Class, offering travellers a more cost-effective choice for comfort and luxury in the sky. So far, customers from Singapore have loved the product and shown great interest in it. Demand and seat load are both highly positive. We are committed to offering our passengers the distinctive Emirates experience whenever they fly with us, and will continue innovating to provide customer-centric, future-forward services," said Rashed Alfajeer, Manager for Singapore & Brunei, Emirates.

The product is currently flying to 16 destinations worldwide.
