

IN ATX, Antos & 2030 Markets announce sustainability alliance

Tony Schifano, Founder & CEO of Antos Environmental

IN Air Travel Experience, Antos Environmental, and 2030 Markets have joined forces to create susta.IN, an alliance aimed at revolutionizing international aviation through resource recovery, circular economy, and energy transition.

The partnership focuses on utilizing end-of-life materials from airlines, airports and caterers to enhance sustainability and generate new revenue streams.

Key priorities include AI-based food waste reduction, advanced recycling for aviation polymers, identification of sustainable aviation fuel feedstocks, conversion of airport waste to renewable energy, and elevating organizations' sustainability operations through education.

The alliance's goal is to drive environmental improvements within global aviation by leveraging cutting-edge technologies and expertise.