

---

Plaza Premium to open two lounges at DFW in 2020

By Rick Lundstrom on December, 20 2019 | Airline & Terminal News

A shop front rendering of the Plaza Premium Lounge planned for Dallas Fort Worth International Airport

Plaza Premium Group will open its first independent lounge in the United States next year, to be located at Dallas Fort Worth International Airport Domestic Lounge Terminal E.

The opening is expected for late March to early April. This Plaza Premium Lounge (PPL) location will be one of two lounges to open at DFW, with another larger PPL location to open in DFW's International Terminal later in 2020.

Plaza Premium Lounge in DFW's Domestic Terminal will accommodate up to 59 people in a 1,400 square-foot space. The lounge will serve freshly prepared hot and cold dishes that are changed daily, accompanied by a wide range of beverages with highlights including local and imported beers, wines from California and Italian Lavazza Coffee.

Travelers will know they've landed in Texas with the lounge's interior 3-D artwork representing the state. Hours of operation will be 4:30 am to 8:00 pm daily.

Plaza Premium Group will open a third independent lounge at Denver International Airport in 2020 as well. Also in North America, Plaza Premium operates at lounge at Toronto Pearson International Airport.

Plaza Premium Group, based in Hong Kong, just recently entered the US market with the opening of its airport meet-and-greet service Allways at DFW in 2019. These new US Plaza Premium Lounge locations and Allways offerings are part of the company's US$100 million global expansion plan for the next two years.