Bucher Group's Galley with Roller-Blind

Bucher Group has unveiled its new Roller-Blind, showcasing it in a galley unit for the first time.

“We are thrilled to unveil our latest innovation, the twin-aisle aircraft center Galley featuring the all-new Bucher Roller Blind,” Bucher Group said via LinkedIn. “This state-of-the-art Galley unit combines sleek Swiss technology with cutting-edge design, making it as functional as it is stylish.”

The Bucher Roller Blind is integrated with the Galley unit for effortless operation and enhanced cabin aesthetics. The Roller Blind is designed to blend with the galley's sophisticated look while providing easy access and privacy when needed.

“At Bucher, we pride ourselves on our ability to fulfill personalized wishes and are eager to engage with you to create products that enhance the inflight experience,” the Group said in its announcement.
