

Jet MS becomes dealer of ALTO Aviation premium cabin solutions

Base and line maintenance provider Jet MS (part of Avia Solutions Group) has gained a dealership agreement with ALTO Aviation, a premium cabin inflight entertainment and audio system design, manufacture and distribution company.

Under the partnership, Jet MS will represent ALTO Aviation products and will offer its clients components and various modifications and upgrades, extending the range of Jet MS services and products.

ALTO Aviation has more than two decades of experience in the design, manufacture, and distribution of premium cabin inflight entertainment and audio systems. Over the years, the company has developed sophisticated proprietary technologies and products that can be installed in corporate, private, VIP jets and helicopters.

ALTO Aviation's user-friendly, intuitive products include a full line of loudspeakers, amplifiers, subwoofers, Cadence™ Cabin Management System, with drop-in direct replacement passenger controls, Bluetooth audio, System Master Controllers, and cabin entertainment accessories. All company's components are DO-160 tested and hold TSO certification.

"We are pleased to become strategic partners with such distinguished and experienced organisation like ALTO Aviation. We believe that the dealership agreement will allow us to offer our business and regional aviation clients more unique and exceptional services and products," said Eugenijus Eidukas, Head of Product Management Unit at Jet MS.