

InnoTrans 2024 is ramping up for a successful trade fair

Inside InnoTrans 2018

InnoTrans, a world-leading trade fair for transport technology that takes place every two years in Berlin, has announced that exhibitors from Germany and around the world have secured their participation in the 2024 event. According to a March 1 release, 80 percent of the display area is already occupied (a record at this stage of bookings) and there is a noticeable demand for larger stands.

“We are delighted with the consistently high demand for exhibition space and hope we can offer everyone interested a display area in 2024. I am impressed every time at how early the industry prepares for InnoTrans, thereby underlining its importance as a globally unique mobility platform with an unmatched market coverage,” said InnoTrans director Kerstin Schulz in the release.

InnoTrans 2024 will occupy the entire exhibition grounds at Messe Berlin, including the Outdoor Display and the Bus Display in the Summer Garden. The Mobility+ and InnoTrans Campus (career concept) segments will be included again.

Registration for InnoTrans 2024 will remain open until 22 September 2023.
