

Linstol and Plastic Bank to offset impact of WTCE 2026

Linstol and Plastic Bank collaborate to offset equivalent of 100 plastic bottles on behalf of each individual attendee to WTCE 2026

With a forecasted 3,650 visitors to WTCE 2026, Linstol is taking meaningful action. In collaboration with Plastic Bank, Linstol is offsetting the equivalent of 100 plastic bottles on behalf of each individual attendee to WTCE 2026. Stopping an estimated 365,000 plastic bottles equal to over 7,300 kgs of plastic waste from polluting our oceans and coastlines.

Through this initiative, Linstol is working to stop plastic pollution at source and improve lives in vulnerable coastal communities, in collaboration with Plastic Bank.

“Sustainability must move beyond intention to measurable impact,” said Steve Whickham, Head of ESG at Linstol. “By partnering with Plastic Bank for WTCE 2026, we are not only preventing plastic waste from entering our oceans, but also supporting ethical collection communities. It’s about creating environmental progress while delivering social value and ensuring our actions are as meaningful as our commitments.”

To support WTCE 2026, Linstol, through its collaboration with Plastic Bank, has stopped 7,300 kilograms of plastic waste from becoming plastic pollution, helping reduce environmental impact while empowering communities.
