

Linstol to unveil The Art of Delivery at WTCE 2026

Linstol to bring The Art of Delivery collection to WTCE 2026

Linstol is set to unveil its latest collection, The Art of Delivery, at WTCE 2026. An elevated showcase celebrating the unseen craftsmanship behind every product arrival.

The concept reflects the belief that exceptional onboard products are not defined solely by their final appearance, but by the journey that brings them to life. Beyond the finished product lies a process shaped by precision engineering, responsible sourcing, meticulous quality control, and intentional design. Celebrating the human touch in the ability to create desire, emotion and meaning at a personal level.

From concept to cabin, every detail is carefully considered to enhance the passenger experience while supporting airline operational efficiency and advancing measurable sustainability goals. The collection will feature Linstol's latest innovations across audio technology, premium comfort solutions, and responsibly designed onboard amenities.

"The Art of Delivery is about recognizing the expertise, care, and craftsmanship that sits behind every product we create," said Paula Wines, Creative Director at Linstol. "For our airline partners, delivery is more than logistics. It's reliability, sustainability, performance, and experience coming together seamlessly. This collection represents our commitment to the unseen journey behind every product.

Visitors to WTCE 2026 are invited to experience how innovation and artistry converge across Linstol's newest offerings. The showcase will highlight not only product design, but the quiet moments of refinement, collaboration and craftsmanship that define how exceptional solutions are not just created but delivered.
