

PAX's Jane Hobson to moderate airline panel at 2026 ACA Leadership Symposium

PAX International Managing Editor Jane Hobson will moderate “The Airlines’ Perspective – What’s Ahead for 2026 and Beyond?” panel at 2026 ACA Leadership Symposium

PAX International is pleased to announce that Managing Editor Jane Hobson will moderate a panel at the upcoming Airline Catering Association (ACA) Leadership Symposium, taking place February 18 to 20, 2026 in Toulouse, France.

Entitled “The Airlines’ Perspective – What’s Ahead for 2026 and Beyond?”, the session will bring together senior airline executives to explore the evolving landscape of inflight services. Discussions will focus on changing passenger expectations, sustainability requirements and the increasing role of innovation in inflight catering. Panelists will provide insights into how airlines are reshaping onboard dining to deliver more personalized, efficient and environmentally responsible solutions.

Speakers confirmed so far for the session include Rosine Allené, VP In-Flight Services & Supply Chain, Air France and Agnieszka Bargieł, Deputy Director Customer Experience, LOT Polish Airlines. Additional speakers will be announced in the lead-up to the event.

As the official media partner for the event, PAX International will provide exclusive coverage, offering PAX readers a front-row view of the latest trends and strategic thinking shaping the airline catering industry.

For those yet to secure their place, registration is now open.