

Video Clip: Networking is key to prepare for the future, says APOT CEO Jeremy Clark

Interview with APOT CEO Jeremy Clark ahead of APOT Asia 2023 in Danang, Vietnam

APOT Asia 2023 is due to kick off in Danang, Vietnam tonight with the welcome cocktail at Furama Resort at 6:30 p.m. local time. PAX International Managing Editor Jane Hobson sat down at the resort lounge this afternoon for an interview with Jeremy Clark, APOT CEO and PAX Asia Correspondent, to learn more about the event that prides itself on doing things differently.

"We've got some wonderful things lined up for the three days that we're here," Clark explains. "It's all about the networking. Having an opportunity to catch up is how we learn what's going on in the industry; who's doing what, where are we going, preparing ourselves for the future."

Hosted all in a relaxed environment, the goal of the event is to cultivate relationships and share knowledge with industry peers through networking. Since its inception in 2010, APOT has grown rapidly, largely due its unconventional take on the standard industry conference.

The APOT Asia registration desk, featuring PAX International and PAX Tech November/December issues

Registration opened this afternoon in the lobby of the Furama Resort. Event attendees are invited to pick up their lanyards and complementary APOT and Catrion sponsored gift bags at the registration desk.

PAX International is live-on-location, so keep watching this space to stay up-to-date. Sign up for our e-newsletter here, and follow along on Instagram and LinkedIn to stay informed.