

White Glo unveils eco-friendly toothpaste sachets

This is a special feature from the September 2025 IFSA Global EXPO issue of PAX International, on page 8.

White Glo's latest innovation delivers high-performance oral care in a sustainable format tailored for airline amenities

White Glo has launched a new range of sustainable toothpaste sachets, positioning itself as the intelligent choice for airlines prioritizing both quality and environmental responsibility. The Australian brand's latest innovation features a three-layer construction designed to deliver freshness, hygiene and eco-conscious appeal.

The sachets combine a natural Kraft paper exterior for premium presentation, a foil middle layer to lock in freshness and a food-grade PE film inside for safe, hygienic sealing. This advanced material structure ensures moisture resistance and single-use convenience while reducing environmental impact.

With increasing demand for sustainable inflight products, White Glo's sachets meet procurement standards by balancing passenger satisfaction with responsible sourcing. The range offers a practical, stylish and eco-conscious solution for premium airline amenity kits.

For airlines seeking tailored designs or technical details, White Glo encourages inquiries through its Hospitality & Travel Partnerships team.
