
FlyFit Flow Travel Cap

By Melissa Silva on June, 3 2015 | Food & Beverage

Company: Vitalit Laboratories

Location: The Netherlands

Description: Vitalit Laboratories introduces FlyFit Flow Travel Cap, a unique capsule that contains the patented ingredient 'Fruitflow' derived from tomato seeds. Fruitflow is clinically proven to support normal platelet aggregation, which leads to healthy blood flow. During periods of extended inactivity, such as flying, unhealthy blood platelets can become "spiky," stick together and form clots. Fruitflow ensures that blood platelets remain smooth, allowing them to move more easily in the vessels. FlyFit Flow Travel Cap is the first natural solution designed to counteract health risks of extended inactivity and thus, the occurrence of 'spiky' blood platelets. When consumed just before or during take-off or at the beginning of a longer period of physical inactivity, one capsule will remain effective for 15 to 18 hours. Ideal for travelers who experience frequent long-haul travel, FlyFit Flow Travel Cap has no side effects, is 100% natural and can be used in combination with any medication. Vitalit Laboratories is currently aiming to roll out the FlyFit Flow Travel Cap at WHSmith retail stores throughout Europe.

