JetBlue adds Brother’s Bond Bourbon to onboard menu

JetBlue has added Brother’s Bond Bourbon to its onboard menu

JetBlue has added Brother’s Bond Straight Bourbon to its onboard spirits selection through a new partnership with the whiskey brand founded by Ian Somerhalder and Paul Wesley.

Available since October 1, the bourbon is served in 50ml bottles. The four-grain blend is made from corn, rye, wheat and malted barley and aged for at least four years. It can be enjoyed neat, over ice or with a mixer.

The agreement expands Brother’s Bond’s distribution into inflight service, introducing the brand to passengers as it grows its U.S. and international presence.

“Having our bourbon served onboard JetBlue is an exciting milestone for us,” said Ian Somerhalder, Co-Founder of Brother’s Bond.

The company’s wider portfolio includes cask-strength, regenerative-grain and bottled-in-bond bourbons, alongside an American blended rye.
